STILLWATER, MINNESOTA, SEPTEMBER 4, 1867.

NUMBER 52

Republican County Convention.

The Republican voters of the county of Washington are requested to meet in delegate convention at the court house in the city of Stillwater, at 12 o'clock, on Monday, the 9th day of September, 1867, for the purpose of nominating 4 delegates to the State convention and the following county officers, to wit:

The basis of apportionment of delegates to said convention will be the Republican vote at the last Presidential election—each precinct in the county being entitled to one delegate, and each precinct which cast more than 25 votes for Lincoln at said election will be entitled to one additional delegate for each 25 votes cast above that number, and one additional vote for a fraction of 12 or more.

The following is the official statement of the Republican vote for President in 1864:

Area	Cast 73 votes, entitled to 3 delegates.
Bayport	50 do do 1 do
Cottage Grove	51 do do 2 do
Danmark	41 do do 1 do
Grand	3 do do 1 do
Lakeland	54 do do 2 do
Marion	104 do do 4 do
Norport	90 do do 3 do

Republican City Caucus.

The Republican voters of the city of Stillwater are requested to meet at the Court House next

SATURDAY EVENING, 7th INST,

at 7½ o'clock, to elect ten delegates to this County Convention to meet in the city on Monday, the 9th, for the nomination of candidates for county officers, and also to appoint ten delegates to a District Convention to meet at Marine on Tuesday, the 10th inst, to nominate two candidates to represent the Second Senatorial District in the Lower House of Representatives.

A horse thief changes his name in every town he enters, so as not to be detected. The Republican party likewise changes its name annually in order to cover up its crimes and fool the people.—St. Peter Advertiser.

There is no necessity for the Democratic party to change its name. The old thief is so well known in every community that it can't throw dirt into people's faces without being detected.

Lieut. John Ledden, formerly a resident of this city, died at Reed's Landing recently of consumption. Lieut. Ledden was connected with the Second Minnesota Cavalry.

COPPER.—The Taylors Falls Reporter of last Saturday says that the copper vein which we mentioned last week as having been discovered just above the bridge, is being worked by D. A. Canaday. The indications of a rich vein still continue promising. A few feet below the surface rich deposits of iron ore were taken out, and still continue to be found in small quantities. We understand that the work will be continued until something definite is arrived at as to the feasibility of forming a mining company.

From the last issue of the Mankato Union we learn that Hon. M. S. Wilkinson's name has been mentioned in connection with the State Senate. The Union says Mr. W. will not decline a nomination if tendered him, but will make no great exertion to secure the position.

Our Chicago Correspondence.

CHICAGO, August 30, 1867.

Editor Messenger.

A deceitful calm seems at present to pervade our city in regard to political matters. A few initiatory speeches made away off some where have been republished in two or three of the dailies, but there have been no local demonstrations to report, and the political editorials are confined to attacks upon Andrew Johnson. This is uniform. The Times goes for him just about as maliciously as the Tribune. The negotiations for the purchase of the Times by the Democratic party have made no advance of late, and in all probability nothing further will be effected until Storey returns from the East.

There is no doubt a sale will be made, for the paper has brought itself into such odium with its political supporters that it can never—under its present management—recover the lost ground. One day blowing hot and the next cold, its readers have no confidence in it, and it is any day a fair subject for a bet what side it will happen, at that particular issue, to be on. Its news selection, thanks to Harry Scovill's ability, are excellent, and owing to the decline of its advertising patronage, there is more space for them than any other paper in the city can afford. Rock gets up a magnificent commercial. Wilkie is a very keen and able editorial writer, and the local, managed by Charley Wright, is second to none; but all these do not offset the weather-cock-like policy of its political policy. If the paper is bought out in the interest of the Democratic party, there will scarcely be any change among its forces except in the appointment of an editor-in-chief. For this post Mr. J. W. Sheahan, formerly editor of the Post, and now one of the principal writers on the Tribune, is proposed. Mr. Sheahan is a gentleman of high literary character, an experienced editor, one of the most caustic writers in the West, and has been one of the chiefs of the party in days gone by. Under his control and with the present assistant staff, the Times would be one of the most powerful organs of the Democratic party in the country.

The Young Men's Christian Association have completed the erection of their great building on Madison street, near La Salle, and are now engaged in furnishing the lecture hall. People here are generally unacquainted with the fact that this hall will seat 3500 persons, 1200 more than Crosby's Opera House and will no doubt be profoundly astonished when it is brought to their knowledge—as it is not intended for dramatic or operatic performances, stage-room here has been sacrificed to expansion of auditorium. But this is the only deficiency observable. The work of frescoing is now going on, and in about thirty days the public will be enabled to behold it in a state of completion. An immense organ is being built at the East for this hall, but about there is a good deal of reticence. Some of the committee affirm that it is intended that it shall equal if not excel the famous Boston organ, but others shake their heads with an—"Oh no! no pretensions of that kind." It wouldn't surprise me, however, if it were true. The fact is that Boston is not far enough west to keep ahead of our fast Chicago in anything. As an evidence of the popularity of this association I may remark that last week the employees of Messrs. Field, Leiter & Co. to the number of one hundred and two joined it in a body. The reading and other rooms of the association, with the exception of the great hall, will be opened on Monday evening next.

The fashionable world has experienced quite a revolution of taste in one essential of the toilette. Until quite recently French perfumes and Lubin's extracts were all that were deemed admissible. Now their place is supplied by others of more durable and delicious odors made here in our own enterprising Chicago. "Ristori" and "Nard-des-Montagues" are the new favorites; and for once fashion is right. These new perfumes are manufactured by P. A. Harroun & Co. at Nos. 206, 208 and 210 Illinois street, (formerly A. H. Granger's chemical works). Skillful chemists who in their huge laboratory make not only these, but many other delicate perfumes, every variety of essences, ethers, essential oils, flavoring extracts and photographic preparations, all of quality unsurpassed even by the most celebrated chemists of the Old World. The excellence of their goods and the cheap rates at which they are offered, have already commended them to dealers all over the country, and assured the success of their enterprise. Retail druggists in the country will find it highly advantageous to deal directly with them instead of with jobbers selling at second hand.

DON.

Democratic Rally.

According to orders, the rats "rallied" last Wednesday evening in that temple made with hands and dedicated to dead men's bones, Holcomb's Hall. We couldn't be there; but we can just as readily report one of these fossil gatherings from our sanctum as if the farce came off.

"In Greenland's icy mountains,
In India's coral strand;
Where Afric's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand," and we were there with note-book and crayon. It is the same thing the world over, only with this variation: the men who "rallied" last Wednesday evening—with few exceptions—were not the men who "rallied" round the flag, boys! when men were needed!

Not knowing but there might be some variation in the programme, we inquired of Jake Fisher—a soldier who has shot as many of the rebel democracy as any sharpshooter in the State, and one who has suffered all the tortures of Salsbury and Libby prisons—if he heard any thing drop! He said General Gorman and Dillon O'Brien—Norwegians, we infer from the names—did their level best—but that the General got his foot in it. Not understanding the phraseology, Fisher explained to us that the General was in the midst of an elegant peroration—and he can perorate gushingly;—when he was taken suddenly and violently ill with the "Chicago diptheria." In response to our inquiry as to the nature of the disease, Fisher said it was a throat and tongue difficulty—that the physicians of Chicago pronounced it diptheria; but out in Galesburg and Rockford, where the people take family newspapers like the Messenger, first-class physicians called it lying! It may be so! We know that a dozen years ago the General was afflicted with "Chicago diptheria"; but knowing that he proved himself a gallant soldier, we had hoped that the disease had not become chronic! The meeting of last Wednesday evening will not affect the price of putty. We like the General and O'Brien; but just now we are having first-class street preaching, which affords better entertainment, and we prefer the gospel of St. John to that of Gorman and A. Johnson.

Capt. Frank Daggett, of the Washburn Herald, has been elected Grand Commander of the organization of the G. A. R. in Minnesota, and is adopting active operations to render the organization complete.

Lieut. Gov. Sherwood, who has just started the "Southern Minnecottian," at Rushford, estimates the wheat crop of Fillmore county at two million bushels.

CURE YOUR COUGHS AND COLDS.—Coe's Cough Balsam will be found a ready and efficient remedy for hard Coughs, Croup, Coughs, and all lung difficulties. It is sold by all druggists. The cheapest and best medicine in the world.

LOCAL NEWS.

Just received, at Eull & Cornman's a splendid assortment of Gilt, Satin, and Oak-grain Wall Paper.

PROGRESSING.—Mr. Moore, of the Milwaukee Wisconsin, is getting up very full statistics of the settlement, business and prospects of Stillwater, and all the important points and towns in our county. The article should be widely circulated.

RATHER ABUSIVE!—Happening in the rooms of the Providence and New York Gift Sale institution on Main street a few days ago, we were induced to invest a quarter in stamps—taking therefor a buff envelope and the inclosure. The card called for a $40 silver plated ice pitcher. Of course we pocketed the insult! This concern is doing land office business. It is a good place for young married people to get an outfit. The goods are going off like hot cakes, yet every boat brings an addition to the large and elegant stock on hand.

The eclipse of the sun last Thursday, or some other cause, produced a marked change of weather. If the change will kill the mosquitoes and spare the corn, it will be endurable.

THE HARVEST.—The wheat and oat harvests have been secured—the weather being highly favorable throughout—and threshing machines have taken the place of the thousands of reapers which have been so actively employed during the past few weeks. From all the information we can get, we think the yield in Washington county will be more than average.

REAPERS.—During the recent trial of Reapers in Afton, we met with quite a number of local and general agents of different machines, from whom we learn that one hundred reapers have been sold in this county the present season. A large number of mowers and threshers have also been purchased by our farmers, which illustrates our rapidly increasing agricultural interests.

STREET PREACHING.—Quite a large and interested crowd assembled in front of the Post office last Sabbath afternoon to listen to Rev. Mr. Caldwell. The meeting was orderly, and the system of street meetings, when the weather is favorable, may be regarded as a fixture. Next Sabbath afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Wright will address the people at the same place.

EARLY FROSTS.—Last Sunday morning considerable frost was visible in some portions of the city. From the country we learn that in low localities considerable damage was done to corn and the more sensitive vegetables.

ANCIENT AND MODERN LANGUAGES.—Rev. Dr. J. E. Freygang has taken rooms at the Lake House, and proposes giving instruction in German, French, Italian, Spanish, Latin, Greek, Hebrew, &c. &c. His advertisement was received too late for insertion today. We cannot vouch for the gentleman personally, but he has shown us very complimentary endorsements from distinguished Divines and Educators—among whom are Judge Wilson, Rev. Mr. Cray, (former Superintendent of Public Instruction), Hon. D. A. Robertson, and others of our own State.

BARGAINS.—Two splendid grain barges—the Annie and Jessie—are now moored at our levee. They were constructed at Talbot & Staples' boat yard, Osceola, for Ben. Campbell, of Galena, and are fine specimens of design and workmanship.

SEE WHAT CHEMISTS SAY.—W. H. DeCamp, chemist, says: "I have analyzed a sample of four different brands of Saleratus, and I find the Soda Saleratus, manufactured by Henry S. Smith, far superior to anything I have seen. It is perfectly pure and healthful, and very fine and white, and is equal, if not superior, to the best English Soda."

This Saleratus has been sold for the past six years, and given entire satisfaction to more than 800,000 families throughout the whole west. It is undoubtedly the best article ever sold.

ECCLIESIASTICAL.—The Synod of Minnesota (New School Presbyterian) will hold its annual session at Mankato, beginning on Thursday, September 26, at 7½ o'clock p. m. and continuing over the following Sabbath.

This is by far the most important ecclesiastical assemblage that has ever been held in this locality. This Synod is emphatically a live body, and contains some of the best clerical talent in the State. In point of enterprise it outstrips similar bodies in many of the older States. Organized less than ten years ago, it now comprises about forty ministers and nearly as many churches, with over six hundred members. This body, together with the Old School, met in this city last autumn.

BASE BALL.—A friendly game of base ball was played between the St. Croix Club of this city and Afton Club of that village a few days since. We understand the Stillwater boys were the victors in a hard contested match by twelve runs.

The return match will be played in this city soon—the time not yet being arranged. The St. Croix boys speak in high terms of the skillful playing of the Afton Club, and of the kind treatment and generous fare extended to them on the occasion of this friendly visit.

When the two succeeding matches are played, we are promised the scoring of the games.

The monthly meeting to promote the better observance of the sabbath in Stillwater and vicinity, will be held in the Myrtle Street church, on Thursday evening, Sept. 5, at 7½ o'clock. Order of exercises: Singing, prayer, short address, and miscellaneous speaking on the divine institution of the Sabbath, both Jewish and Christian.

Lyon's Periodical Drops!
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES!

These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any pills, powders or nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain remedy for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know of them, as the surest, safest, and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of John L. Lyon, without which none are genuine. Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 185 Chapin street, New Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Gr. G. CLARK & CO., Gen'l Agents for U. S. and Canada. For sale by Carl & Co. 37-ly.

A NEW YEAR!
—AND—
New Goods!

Thankful for past favors, the undersigned takes pleasure in informing the people generally that his stock of Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, &c., is full and complete. In addition to a general Dry Goods and Grocery business, I deal in FLOUR CORN MEAL, BUCKWHEAT FLOUR, BUTTER, EGGS, and all kinds of Provisions, Quick sales and small profits is my motto. Please call, if you want your money's worth. Store on Main street, south of the Lake House. J. A. BATES.

POINT DOUGLAS
Marble Works

The undersigned having entered into a co-partnership for the more extensive manufacture of MARBLE MONUMENTS, GRAVE-STONES, &c., are now prepared to fill all orders for Grave-stones or Monuments at about twenty-five per cent less than any other establishment in the West. Prices must come down, and we have begun it, and will carry it out. However, Mr. C. J. Aldrich has sold more marble in Minnesota than any other one man living in the State, and parties need only to visit the Cemetery at Stillwater, or inquire of the parties to whom he has sold to know that he sells the best work in the West. We have advantages over any other point on the river as a place of manufacture. We are at the head of navigation in all low water—we have no high rents or city taxes, or high prices for fuel and other expenses attending the business in St. Paul and other cities. We get our freight at our door as cheap as though it were left at any point on the river below by through contract. We deliver and set up and warrant all our work. Please write to us before you buy, or wait to see our authorized agent, who has our certificate. Do not be deceived—there are agents traveling who falsely represent us, but are selling for others at prices one-third higher than ours, and offering poorer work. C. J. ALDRICH, G. W. MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas, on the 4th day of August, 1858, Oscar King and Susan O. King his wife, made, executed and delivered to F. W. Hotchkiss, a certain indenture of mortgage, bearing date on that day, for the purpose of securing the payment of certain sums of money therein named, whereby they did grant, and convey unto the said F. W. Hotchkiss, his heirs and assigns forever, all those places and parcels of land lying and being in the county of Washington, and State of Minnesota, described as follows, to wit:
The north-east quarter [1] of the south-west quarter [2] of the north-west quarter [3] of the south-east quarter [4] of the south-east quarter [5] of section thirty-one [6] township thirty-one [7] north of range twenty [8] west; also the west half [9] of the north-east quarter [10] of section eleven [11] and south-west quarter [12] of south-east quarter [13] of section two [14] township thirty-one [15] north of range twenty [16] west; [17] which said mortgage was duly acknowledged by said mortgagors, and on the 11th day of October, 1858, was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Washington, in book D of mortgages, pages 479 and 480. And whereas, said mortgage was on the 22d day of May, 1867, together with the indebtedness thereby secured, duly executed, acknowledged and delivered, was duly recorded in the office of the said Register of Deeds on the 22d day of July, 1867, in book H of mortgages, on pages 40 and 41. And whereas, default has been made in the payment of said sums of money and in the condition of said mortgage, and there is, at the date of this notice, due upon said mortgage the sum of five thousand four hundred twenty-two and 26-100 dollars, ($5422.26) and no suit or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover said debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.
Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and agreeable to the statute in such cases made and provided, the above described mortgaged premises will be sold by the sheriff of the said county of Washington, on the 16th day of September, 1867, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the said place of sale in the city of Stillwater, in said county, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage, and all legal costs and charges.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default has been made in the payment of certain monies secured to be paid by certain indenture of Mortgage executed by Orlin Parsons and Corriann Parsons, his wife, of Washington County, Minnesota, to Henry Rust Parsons, of Paris, in the State of Maine, dated the 3d day of May, 1860, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Washington, on the 16th day of July, 1860, at 9 o'clock A. M., in Book "F" of Mortgages, page 142. There is claimed to be due, and is due at the date of this notice, of the monies secured to be paid by said Mortgage, the sum of one thousand and fifty-three and 80-100 ($1053.80) dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law has been had or instituted for the recovery of the same or any part thereof. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the statute in such cases made and provided, the lands and premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to wit: All of Lot No. Eight (8) in Block No. Thirty-one (31) of the town (now city) of Stillwater, in the County of Washington, and State of Minnesota, as surveyed and platted by Harvey Wilson, Esq., and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for said County; and also all that part of Lots No. Nine (9) and Ten (10) in said Block No. Thirty-one (31) contained within the following bounds, to wit: Beginning at the North-east corner of said Lot, No. Ten (10), and running thence westerly along the South line of Chestnut street Sixty five (65) feet to a point, thence Southwesterly on a line parallel with the East line of "Fourth street, One Hundred and Twelve (112) feet, more or less, to the place of beginning—with all the hereditaments and appurtenances thereto in anywise belonging, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, by the Sheriff of said County of Washington, at his office in the City of Stillwater, in said County, on Thursday, the 22nd day of September, 1867, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to pay and satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage together with the costs and expenses of said sale.
HENRY RUST PARSONS, Mortgagee.
WM. M. McCLELL, Atty. for Mortgagee.
Dated Stillwater, July 30, 1867. 7c

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an alias execution to me directed and delivered, and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court of the said Judicial District in and for the county of Washington, State of Minnesota, in an action wherein the State of Minnesota is plaintiff and Mark Fletcher, Robert R. Henry and Eleazer Trevett are defendants, in favor of said plaintiff and against said Robert R. Henry and Eleazer Trevett, defendants, for the sum of six hundred eighteen 28-100 dollars, ($618.28) and the further sum of ten 66-100 dollars, ($10.65) increased costs, which said judgment was docketed in this Washington County on the 29th day of July, 1867.
I have on this 26th day of August, 1867, levied upon, as the property of Robert R. Henry, one of said defendants, the following described real estate, situated in the county of Washington, State of Minnesota, to wit:
The North-east quarter of the south-east quarter of section No. thirty-two, (32) township No. twenty-seven (27) range twenty-one, (21).
Now therefore notice is hereby given that I will sell the above described real property and all the right, title and interest which the said Robert R. Henry had of, in or to the same on the said 29th day of August, 1867, or at any time thereafter, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the Sheriff's office in the city of Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Thursday, the 29th day of September, 1867, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy said execution, interest and cost.

STATE CONVENTION!

MARSHALL WILL BE RE-NOMINATED!

Just as we go press we receive the following special telegram:

St. Paul, Sept. 11—2 P. M.
Editor Stillwater Messenger:

The State Convention organized temporarily at 12 M. to-day, and adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M.

The following nominations will be made: Governor, Gen. Wm. R. Marshall; Lieutenant-Governor, Thomas H. Armstrong; Secretary of State, Col. H. C. Rodgers; Treasurer of State, Capt. Emil Munch—the present incumbent, Mr. Scheffer, declining a re-nomination.

There are many candidates for Attorney-General, and I cannot report who will be nominated. The convention will not get through to-day.

City Council.

At the City Councils last Saturday evening—attended by about sixty Republicans—S. L. Cowan, Louis Hospes, Jacob Beas, Josiah Staples, A. B. Easton, Capt. Wm. McKusick, Capt. Thomas Sinclair, J. S. Proctor, A. M. Dodd, and G. M. Seymour were elected delegates to the county convention; which met on Monday, and also delegates to represent the city in the District convention which met at Marine yesterday.

Hon. John McCasick was chairman, and A. M. Dodd Secretary.

A. J. Van Vorhes, A. K. Doe and W. M. May were appointed a city committee for the ensuing year.

County Convention.

This convention met at the court house on Monday, the 9th, and was organized by the appointment of J. W. Furber as Chairman and Ebenezer Ayres as Secretary.

We are compelled to condense from the official report, merely embodying results. The following delegates were in attendance:

[The delegates are the same as to the Legislative convention.]

The result of the balloting is as follows:

For Sheriff—George Davis 18 and J. R. Carl 14 votes. Mr. Davis was declared nominated.

Register of Deeds—M. Y. Jackson, 19—A. M. Dodd 11. Mr. Jackson was declared nominated.

Treasurer—E. A. Folsom, 18—S. W. Furber, 13. Mr. Folsom was declared nominated.

Prosecuting Attorney—W. M. McCluer, 18—L. R. Cornman, 14. Mr. McCluer was declared nominated.

At this stage of the proceedings, Mr. Lehnicke, County Auditor, was permitted to address the Convention upon the necessity of nominating a candidate for Coroner who would serve; whereupon P. E. Keefe, our worthy City Marshall, was nominated by acclamation. The nominations were each made unanimous.

For Commissioners—H. A. Jackman was nominated for the Third, and George Woodward for the Fifth district.

Dr. J. B. Phillips, Hon. John McKusick, Louis Hospes, and William Lowell were elected delegates to the State Convention which assembles to-day in St. Paul.

The chairman then appointed Dr. J. K. Reiner, A. B. Stickney and Ebenezer Ayres as the Central Committee for the ensuing year.

A kindly feeling prevailed throughout, and we shall expect a triumphant election of the entire ticket.

MORTIFICATION HAS TAKEN PLACE.

It must be mortifying to a housewife to find she has bought a poor, miserable Saleratus, when she called for the best, and found it out too late to get any other, when she had invited company.

In buying Smith's you get exactly what you desire—the best in market. He only manufactures one brand—that is always nice and full weight.

Where there are several grades manufactured, the dealers always buy the cheapest, because there is more profit in it. Use none but Smith's.

Legislative Convention.

The District Convention, for the nomination of two Candidates for the Legislature to represent this District, met at Marine yesterday.

The Convention was called to order by the Chairman of the Committee, A. B. Stickney, Esq., and A. J. Van Vorhes was elected temporary Chairman.

After a brief recess, the Convention was permanently organized by the appointment of J. S. Proctor President, and Hon. Robert Watson Secretary.

S. W. Furber, Daniel McKean and Orange Walker were appointed a Committee on credentials, who reported the following persons entitled to seats in the Convention.

Lakeland—Daniel McKean, E. A. Jackson.

Marine—Hiram Berkley, Wm. Lowell, Emil Graf, Orange Walker.

Stillwater—John C. Gardner.

Grant—Jesse H. Soule.

Newport—N. A. Miller.

Denmark—John M. Vandever, Mark Wright.

Ayres—Jos. Haskell, R. N. Pray, J. J. Kendall.

Cottage Grove—Robert Watson, S. W. Furber, Geo. Woodward.

Daytown—J. R. H. Mitchell.

Woodbury—E. Ayres, John Anderson, E. A. Rutherford.

Stillwater City—Louis Hospes, S. L. Cowan, Thos. Sinclair, John S. Proctor, Jacob Beas, Josiah Staples, A. M. Dodd, A. J. Van Vorhes, (substitute for A. B. Easton.) J. B. Phillips, (substitute for G. M. Seymour.)

An informal ballot was then taken for two candidates for Representatives, which resulted in the choice of Hon. John W. Furber, of Cottage Grove, and William Lowell of Marine—after which the nominations were made unanimous.

Mr. Furber is a legislator of much experience, has filled the position of speaker of the House during our Territorial existence, and is regarded as one of the most accomplished parliamentarians in the State.

William Lowell is equally well known as a man of sound judgment and purity of character. The ticket is a strong one, and should commend the united support of the Union men of the District.

S. W. Furber, of Cottage Grove, L. K. Stannard of Taylors Falls, and A. M. Dodd, of Stillwater were appointed District Committee.

Dr. Johnson.—This celebrated man, notwithstanding the morality of his life and writings, was obliged to call in the holy offices of a divine to soothe his dying hours. If he could have procured a bottle of "Dr. J. W. Poland's White Pine Compound," the distressing disease which terminated his career might have been successfully treated, and the religious world blessed with the many rich fruits of his ripe old age. Sold at retail by all druggists.

Pain in the Stomach or Bowels, Constipation, Sick-Headache, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Distress after eating, are surely cured by the use of "Doc's Dyspepsia Cure." It is certainly the greatest remedy in existence. For sale by druggists everywhere.

ANCIENT AND MODERN LANGUAGES.—Rev. Dr. J. E. Freygang has taken rooms at the Lake House, and proposes giving instruction in German, French, Italian, Spanish, Latin, Greek, Hebrew, &c. &c. His advertisement was received too late for insertion to-day. We cannot vouch for the gentleman personally, but he has shown us very complimentary endorsements from distinguished Divines and Educators—among whom are Judge Wilson, Rev. Mr. Cray, (former Superintendent of Public Instruction,) Hon. D. A. Robertson, and others of our own State.

BASE BALL.—There will be a match game of Base Ball between the Afton Club and the St. Croix Club of this place, on Thursday of this week, September 12. The game will be played on the grounds of the St. Croix Club, in Nelson's Field. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to witness the game.

There will be a social dance in the evening at the Sawyer House. No cards of invitation will be issued, but all friends of the Clubs are invited.

DISLOCATIONS AND BRUISES.—Nearly every day we meet some of our young friends with either an arm or an upper lip hanging in a sling. Upon inquiry as to the difficulty, the universal reply is—"D—n Base Ball!"

Base ball is becoming almost as fashionable as "chignons," and they are the height of fashion with the girls. If we were profane, we would respond—"d—n chignons!" They are horrible. Base ball and distorted lips are preferable.

LET IT BE RECORDED.—During the rain-storm of Sunday afternoon, we loaned our friend, Bill Crossler, a cotton umbrella to protect himself from the moisture while returning to his home, a few miles in the country. To our astonishment the furniture was returned on Monday morning. As this is the first instance of the return of an umbrella, we thought the circumstance worthy of note. "An honest man is the noblest work of God," and Crossler must be one of them.

ACCIDENT.—A man, whose name we did not learn, employed in Schulenburg's mill, a few days since met with quite a serious accident through reckless carelessness by which he came near being crushed by a bag being thrown upon him while changing its position on the gang-way. It is thought he will recover.

REMARKS.—On account of the inclemency of the weather, street preaching was omitted last Sabbath afternoon. If the weather is favorable, religious exercises will be held in front of the Post-office next Sunday at 5 o'clock P. M.

ACCEPTED.—On Sabbath morning last, Rev. Mr. Wright announced from his pulpit that he had accepted the unanimous call from the congregation of the First Presbyterian Society of this city to become Pastor of the same. On Monday evening, at a meeting of the congregation, the following persons were elected Trustees:

For three years—Rev. W. T. Bentwell, H. A. Jackman and Wm. E. Thorne.

For two years—A. C. Lull, Mr. Plummer and A. J. Van Vorhes.

For one year—C. R. Gardner, H. M. Crandall and J. S. May.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS TO SOOTHE THE SAVAGE BREAST.—But who can picture the charms of one who has suffered a lifetime with Scrofula, and finds himself suddenly cured? None but those suffering from the same terrible disease, which nothing will cure so quickly as J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor. Put up in large bottles, and for sale by Carl & Co. and H. M. Crandall, at $1 per bottle.

RESORTING TO TRICKS.—You will see men head an advertisement with A man found Dead, or A War with Mexico, for the purpose of attracting attention; but the true way to advertise is to be plain, as follows: "For Scrofula, or other diseases of the Blood, use J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor." Put up in large bottles, and for sale by Carl & Co. and Crandall at $1.

City Schools.

After a vacation of six weeks, the city schools were re-opened last Monday morning with encouraging prospects, with the following corps of teachers:

Professor Woodward, Principal, and in immediate charge of the Grammar department; First Intermediate, Miss Rose Winters; Second Intermediate, Mrs. M. M. Burdick and Miss Stella Shepard; Primary departments, Misses Julia and Alice Hamilton, Miss Etta Fay, Miss Eva Smith and Miss Julia Clark.

FIRE.—The warehouse of Messrs. Hunsdon Bros., of Lakeland, burned to the ground on Monday night. We have not learned the loss sustained.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, of Indiana, and Gen. John A. Logan, of Illinois, have gone to Ohio to devote their services to the Union cause in that State. It would be gratifying to hear a few notes from their bugle horns in Minnesota.

BURIAL LOT FOR PRINTER.—The members of the Chicago Typographical Union have lately purchased a plot of ground at Rose Hill Cemetery burial purposes. The plot is centrally located, large, and when laid out will correspond in beauty and taste of design with the most attractive in the Cemetery.

GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR.—In buying Saleratus, as other things, see that you get what you pay for, viz: 16 ounces when you pay for a pound. If you always buy D. B. De Land & Co.'s Best Chemical Saleratus you will never be deceived, but always get full weight and the best goods.

FACTS.—The Chemical Saleratus is the Best Saleratus. Chemical Saleratus is better than Soda. Chemical Saleratus has 16 ounces in a paper, others have 14 to 15 ounces.

Our Chicago Correspondence.

Chicago, Sept. 12, 1867.

The grand event of the week, that of which everybody talks, and to which almost everybody goes, is the great Horse Fair out at Dexter Park. Decidedly this is the greatest display of equine power and beauty which has ever been witnessed in the North West—one which is unsurpassed in the records of the turf, even in the United States. No less than eighty first-class trotting horses are entered on the lists, together with a great number of horses in other classes. The magnificent offers of the Directors of the Park, amounting to over $20,000 in the aggregate—the fact that this is the farewell of Dexter to the turf, and the general desire of our people to see some good racing, a pleasure of which they have long been deprived, have together made the "Horse Fair," (as we piously euphemise our racing season), a grand success from its very inception. The first day there were not less than six thousand persons on the course. Yesterday there were fifteen thousand at the lowest calculation. The occasion of this extraordinary turn out was the appearance of Dexter. He was entered for a race with Ben Butler, Silas Rich, Tackery, and Bashaw, Jr.—he to go to wagon, the others to harness. The winning horse was to take a prize of $1500, the second $800, and the third $500. Nobody, of course, supposed that any horse but Dexter would win the race, but there was considerable disappointment at the result so far as the other horses were concerned. In the pools, Silas Rich sold for very small figures—in one, for instance, at $65 in a pool of $325. To the great surprise of everybody, Silas Rich came in first after Dexter, taking the second prize and all the pools. The time made was very slow, only 2:31 1/2, 2:23 1/2 and 2:30 1/2. Better time than this may be expected from Dexter before he leaves us, for he never trotted on a better track or in better weather, and he will, it is promised, leave to Chicago the honor of better time than he has made anywhere else. There are thousands of strangers in our city assembled to witness these races.

R. Forsyth, ("Bob," as he is generally known), has assumed the responsible position of General Freight Agent of the Chicago and Great Eastern R. R. He has for five years occupied the same position on the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., and eight years on the Illinois Central, and is generally known as one of the best railroad men in the country. The Great Eastern road needs more than any other in the west, good and new men for its management, and a better commencement could not be made than by the engagement of Bob Forsyth.

There were last week 102 transfers of real estate in this city, amounting in aggregate value to $427,000. A remarkably fine horticultural and floricultural exhibition at Library Hall closed last evening. It was the best we have ever had in this city, and did great credit to our local gardeners. There is still however great room for improvement. Our gardens are nothing such as they should be, either in comprehensiveness or extent. Some of the finest flowers, which are quite common at the east, are quite unknown here, and thus far, I regret to say, there is not sufficient demand to encourage gardeners to any expensive experiments.

The Young Men's Christian Association of this city have made every preparation for the great convention of similar Associations of the North-west, on the 2d of next month, by which time they will have completed their grand new hall, which is capable of seating 3500 persons. The Association has now over $3000 as a nucleus for a Library Fund, to which Geo. Armour has contributed $10,000 more, to be paid in annual instalments of $2000 each. As another instance of the popularity of this organization, the great dry goods firm of J. V. Farwell & Co. have taken stock to the amount of over $50,000, to aid in the erection of their new building, and many others of our heavy mercantile firms have in like manner contributed largely in proportion to their business, but in all cases less than Messrs Farwell & Co.

Messrs. J. V. Farwell & Co. have the largest wholesale dry goods house in the Northwest, and last year transacted a jobbing business of $8,300,000. If one may judge from the present activity of their trade, the returns of this year will far exceed those of last. The huge marble-fronted building which they occupy at Nos. 42, 44 and 46 Wabash-avenue is six stories in height, and covers three lots. This immense room for storage is fully occupied by over a million dollars worth of goods, a stock as comprehensive in every variety and perfect in detail as it is immense as a total. Staple goods, woolen goods, dress goods, prints, notions, etc., are heaped up here on the several floors in quantities amply sufficient to clothe a nation, yet all this is but a small and constantly changing portion of the vast amount of goods which pass through the hands of this firm. There are no specialties in their business, and but one uniform rule, that of supplying the best goods, at the complete satisfaction of buyers, at the cheapest possible rates. The light for the selection of goods is admirable, and so thoroughly systematized are the several departments that dealers may obtain samples of everything which the market affords in much less time and with much less trouble than anywhere else.

DON.

State Ticket.

The Republican convention last Wednesday presented a list of candidates to the voters of our State of which every citizen should feel proud. Three of the present incumbents were renominated with great unanimity, which were merited compliments to Governor Marshall, Lieutenant Governor Armstrong and Secretary Rogers.

The nomination of Capt. Munch for Treasurer is a fortunate selection to succeed Mr. Charles Scheffer, who has filled the position so ably during the past eight years, but who declined a renomination. Capt. Munch has been chief clerk in the office of State Treasurer during the past two years, and is thoroughly conversant with the duties of the position.

We regard the nomination of Hon. F. R. E. Cornell for Attorney General as peculiarly fortunate. He has been almost uninterruptedly connected with the legislation of our State from its earliest existence, and as a lawyer has no superior in either of the two parties.

Let all side issues which have no partisan bearing upon the canvass be thrown aside, and let us all go to work and maintain our position as the banner Republican State of the Northwest.

HONESTY THE BEST POLICY.—This old adage has proved true in the case of Best Chemical Saleratus, being always full weight and perfect goods.

"I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there is none to dispute;
From the center all round to the sea,
I am lord of the fowls."

Every disease named in the advertisement of Dr. J. W. Poland's White Pine Compound. Read it.

LOCAL NEWS.

Just received, at Lull & Cornman's a splendid assortment of Gilt, Satin, and Oak-grain Wall Paper.

Apologetic.—Our office has been "demoralized" during the past four days, which must account for short comings to-day. We have been compelled to make changes in our rooms, and are glad to get out a paper in any shape. Mortar, lime, rocks, sand, dirt—disagreeable surroundings mountain high—such is our "situation." If, hereafter, we feel as we do to-day, instead of "slinging ink," we shall sling dirt into some person's face in a spirit not recognized in the decalogue, which was written upon two tables of stone—not such stones as now cover our office floor. For the first time in our life, we feel mad to-day.

GROWING OLD.—Last Wednesday the Messenger entered upon the twelfth year of its existence, and to-day we issue No. 2 of volume 12. The first number was issued on the 17th of September, 1856, during which time a regular issue has never been omitted. We are the oldest but one in the State, having a continuous connection with the same paper. Our friend Sinclair, of the Winona Republican, outranks us a few months in seniority.

What changes during these eleven years! During this period our city has grown into commercial importance, the resources of our country have been developed and occupied, while Minnesota has been transformed from a sparsely settled Territory to an empire of people holding a commanding position in the constellation of States. During these years the Messenger has been a chronicler of these unfolding events. These events—crowded into these years—have made themes for scores of volumes of history, of which these pages have noted as they transpired. They have recorded the reverses and the successes of the most terrible war ever known, and the final restoration of the supremacy of the Government. They have chronicled financial reverses and retarding prosperity to our country. They have mirrored the joys and hopes clustering around the marriage altar, and the sadness hovering over the gloom of the grave of hundreds of near and dear friends. In short, the Messenger has endeavored to be "a map of the busy world and its vast designs." We greet our old and tried friends with whom we have so long communed, and hope to find many new ones during the coming years.

BASE BALL.—A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present last Thursday afternoon to witness the second game between the Afton and St. Croix Clubs. We had expected to give the scorings of the two games, but cannot to-day. The result was a victory by the St. Croix boys on each occasion—the last game resulting in 67 runs by the St. Croix boys and 46 by the Afton Club. The St. Croix Club entertained their friends handsomely, winding up with a dance in the evening. The contest will probably be repeated.

THERE has been so much swindling in the Gift Sale business, in its various forms, that people are naturally suspicious of all institutions partaking in any wise of the nature of Gift business. The New York and Providence Agency, on Main street, is certainly an exception to the general rule. There are many living witnesses to this fact.

For the three weeks it has been in our midst, they have sold thirty-one watches, two magnificent ice pitchers, fifteen dozen fine oval pictures, ten dozen albums, nine dozen castors, spoons, forks, clocks, and a multitude of other goods at one dollar each article. Any one in want of such goods cannot do better than call on them soon, as they will remain but a few days longer.

AUTUMN is again upon us, and soon Winter will clasp us in his frigid embrace. Beware of Coughs and Colds; they often terminate in Consumption. Coe's Cough Balsam is a pleasant but certain remedy. It is excellent for Croup among the children.

PERSONAL.—Dr. E. D. Whiting, of Taylors Falls, returned a few days ago from an European tour. He spent three weeks in Paris attending the Exposition, visited all important points in Germany, Belgium, Italy, England, &c., and returns in excellent health. Rev. Mr. Hall, who accompanied the Doctor, is stopping a few days in Ohio.

JO. SCHLENK, the irrepresible wholesale and retail dealer in store clothes, has just returned from New York—making the journey, and purchasing six steamboat loads of goods, in fourteen days.

BRAINS.—During the past few days we have been visited by Frank Daggett, of the Wabasha Herald, (weight 634 pounds;) Hod. Taylor, of the Hudson Times; Capt. Davis, of the Pioneer; G. W. McMullen, of the Chicago Post; Charley Folsom, of the Taylors Falls Reporter; and G. W. Moore, formerly of the Minnetonian. If they had come together, we should have held a convention and passed resolutions and whereases, or whereases and resolutions.

Hon. H. D. Barron, of St. Croix Falls, gave us a brief call a few days ago. The Baron ought to have been nominated for Lt. Governor by the Wisconsin convention, for which position he received 98 votes.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred about 11 o'clock this morning to a young man in the employ of Messrs. Muller & Simonet, builders, named Hosteen. While removing an old shed adjoining Demler Hall, several tons of rock were displaced, a portion of which fell upon him. His injuries are internal, and his physician—Dr. Carl—is of the opinion that they will prove fatal.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.—It must be gratifying intelligence to learn that any one can always have light, sweet, spongy bread, by using Smith's Saleratus. It will rise upon its merit, while it is the meanest gossip to suppose that you can make good bread by using any other.

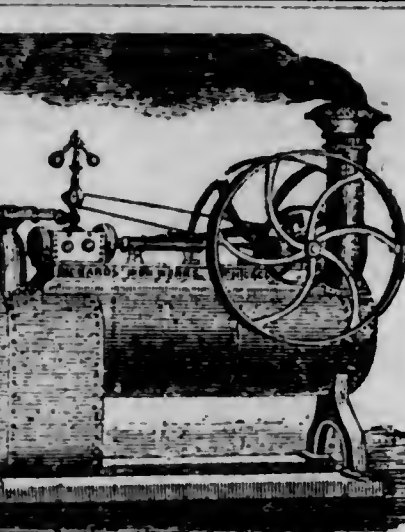

If your grocer does not keep Smith's Saleratus, it is for the reason that he can make more money by buying an inferior article. Just tell him you want nothing but the best.

This Saleratus is one-third stronger than any other sold in market.

MARRIED.

At the house of Jonathan Green, Esq., of Cottage Grove, on the 17th inst., by Rev. J. G. Rheddafer, assisted by Rev. J. S. Reed, Rev. J. C. CALDWELL, Pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Stillwater, to Miss LIZ ZIE GREEN.

[Our friend Caldwell, notwithstanding his profession, is to some extent, "of the earth, earthy," and we don't blame him! We are all creatures of imitation—and as he has tied the Gordian knot for so many of his parishioners and others, it is quite natural that he should wish to try it on himself. We congratulate him most cordially. Last evening, when returning to the Parsonage, the happy pair found the house filled with friends, an elegant table spread, and his friends masters of the situation. Before the company separated, a purse of over fifty dollars was presented to the Reverend gentleman—a very useful adjunct to household affairs.]

—The N. Y. Times is responsible for the following:

Very many divorce suits are conducted in a manner so exceedingly confidential that one of the parties most interested is not informed of the proceedings at all, until astounded by the presentation of the decree. We were cognizant of a case, wherein an estimable lady, innocent of all wrong and ignorant even of the existence of the suit, was suddenly confronted with a divorce decree, which she had signed at the start of a journey to see some friends; some hours after, in the privacy of her state room, she found letters to examine a paper her husband had handed her at the last minute, and discovered it to be a copy of a decree of divorce rendered by an Illinois Judge. Before the steamer had been six hours gone, her late husband had married another woman.

—Nothing is more astonishing to the sight-seer in Paris than the way in which new streets are run up in all quarters of the town. With modern means and appliances, with cut iron instead of carpenters work, with steam-tempered mortar and traveling cranes, can be done in six weeks now what used to be an affair of six months. Five or six million francs are spent in a year to pull down houses which would have lasted a century, while upward of 400,000,000 are invested in new buildings. To effect these vast operations there are about 5,000 contractors of all grades, who employ 80,000 workmen.

Haight, formerly a distinguished lawyer in Rochester and St. Louis, and subsequently eminent at the bar of San Francisco. The father was, during the last years of his life, District Judge of the Southern District of California, appointed by Mr. Lincoln. The younger Mr. Haight graduated at Yale College in 1844 or '45, studied law in Rochester, and has practiced most successfully at the bar both in St. Louis and San Francisco. He is a man of very decided talents, most pleasing address, and irreproachable character.

—Mrs. Eliza Barstow, a young war widow, residing near Hartford, Connecticut, had been courted and won by a young lawyer from Providence, who spent his vacation in the neighborhood. The day for the marriage was fixed, and all the arrangements made, but at the appointed hour the bridegroom came not. He had gone from the town in an early train. The bride was disconsolate, the friends outraged. Worse than all, the dinner was getting spoiled by waiting. Seeing this state of affairs, one of the invited guests, a middle-aged farmer, who had been a secret admirer of Mrs. Barstow, and whom she had encouraged before the lawyer's advent, stepped up, offered to take the groom's place, and was accepted. They were married, ate their dinner, and promise to make a happy couple.

—The New York Gazette, starting, says: "Sad are the stories that float in upon us from the central life at Long Branch, Saratoga, and other of the fashionable summer resorts. Privileges we expect. A measurable amount of dancing and gaiety is not surprising. But we do not look for such reports as those which are left to us by the obnoxious. We do not look to see ladies and gentlemen who are prominent in metropolitan social life engaging in downright carousals, some drinking, some smoking, some indulging in all sorts of excesses. This has been the shame and curse of the season. It has left a blight on the minds of the people, and it has, to our certain knowledge, taken two persons straight down to death."

—The most important and mysterious question at Chicago is, "Where is Goodrich?" —A young woman took the cars at Manchester, N. H., for Lawrence, Mass., last Monday morning, and in the "ladies' saloon" was delivered of a child, which she threw out upon the track, and then resumed her place among the passengers. The child was discovered by some track hands, who cared for it, and at last accounts it was expected to live. The fact that a child had been born on board was not discovered until the car was being swept at Boston. Then the two discoveries were put together, research was made, the unnatural mother found in Stoneham, and her lost baggage restored to her.

Horrible Occurrence—A Man Struck to Death in an Oil Refining Still.

In the late fire which occurred at Old Springs, Canada West, resulting in the loss of the Hartford Oil Refinery, a man named Hutchison was literally baked to death. He was at the time of the fire, which took place at midnight, cleaning out one of the stills. To do this he had to descend into the still by a small iron ladder, which was to be drawn up to enable a man to go about his work. While thus working, by some means through the pipe becoming disconnected under the hands of the workmen on the refinery, the oil ran out, and communicating with the fire the whole mass was in a moment blazing. The man who escaped endeavored to extinguish his fellow, and succeeded in grasping his hand, but he was unable to retain his hold through the fierce flame which was rapidly surrounding him, and to save himself was compelled to abandon his companion; in the meanwhile being himself severely burned in his effort at rescue. Rushing through the flames he escaped and stands in the open air, only to hear, in common with the assembled neighbors, the hopeless cry for help which every now and then rang above the roar of flaming oil from the fatal still which was to prove the terrible tomb in which Hutchison lay. A living man was to grapple with the death heat, as hotter and hotter grew the iron, closer and more stifling the atmosphere, and more intense, though each time feebler, the attempt to draw breath; till at last the almost equally painful silence told the horror-stricken spectators, who stood powerless, that all was over, and that none nothing but a blackened mass would remain of the man who not an hour before was in the prime of life and health. To add to their distress, the wife of the dying sufferer hurried to the scene, but only to hear the last cry that came from that terrible tomb, and to be borne back agonized with grief, to find, almost unconsciously within her arms for life, a fatherless one. The poor man was subsequently found in an upright posture, leaning against the still, and though not touched by the fire, he was but a black, charred mass, whose clothes crumbled away at the first touch, only to reveal the bare burnt skeleton.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Eight Persons Fall Forty-Five Feet from the Abutment of a Bridge.

TWO KILLED AND SIX TERRIBLY HANDED.

From the Cincinnati Commercial, Sept. 10.

A frightful accident, that will never be forgotten by the terrified spectators, and one that will chill the blood of readers when they think upon the tragic incident connected with it, occurred yesterday afternoon. The facts in the melancholy affair, which took place about 8 o'clock yesterday, are as follows:

A party of six persons assembled yesterday afternoon, and on the proposal of Mr. Wiegand, resolved to accompany him to the shooting grounds on Fairmount, where the Red Men were holding their meeting. In pursuance of the resolution, they proceeded the horse and wagon of one of the party, a carpenter, named Frederick Ochsle, and taking with them the dog, started. The wagon, started. On the road they overtook a man named Emil Reich, who desired to get into the wagon, and they permitted him to do so. The party was a very amusing one, and many remarks were passed which led him to Ochsle's horse, when that horse, being frightened by the dog, reared and fell over the side of the bridge, and the party fell forty-five feet. The scene that followed was one of the most melancholy and pitiful character.

The young girl, Lena's neck was broken, and she died quietly upon the ground, suffering greatly. Her agonies were soon over, for death dealt kindly with her, and when the bright eyes became glazed they were finally closed by some good Samaritan, and her form borne to the watchman's box near the railroad track. Her father was injured badly about the head, and was consequently insensible. The carpenter, Ochsle, suffered the greatest agonies from frightful wounds in the head and body. He writhed and twisted in his efforts to obtain relief, a d at each moment the life blood oozed out and stained the grass around him. He was finally taken to his home, where he died a short time after his arrival. Adam Gutterman, a man of about thirty years of age, and a native of the city, fell from the bridge, and received a large stone, received wounds which will surely cause his death. His injuries consist of a compound fracture of the skull, involving the brain, and a compound fracture of the spine. Dr. H. M. Heltzer, who attended him, and in fact who rendered efficient service to all of the wounded persons, has no hopes of his recovery.

Andrew Dresler, who lives at 851 Outer street, near Gutterman, was terribly out and bruised, but in all probability will recover. His right arm and left leg were broken, and his head was injured.

J. H. Baumer, who lives at No. 67 Green street, was badly hurt, but his physicians entertain hopes of his recovery.

Emil Reich, who lives at No. 121 Martin street, sustained a number of body bruises, and had his right foot twisted from its socket, and left hanging by the flesh. His case is a serious one.

Emil Reich, who keeps a saloon on the corner of Logan and Findlay streets, saw the imminent danger, jumped from the wagon, and ran to the scene of the accident. He was the first to get to the scene, and he was the first to render aid to the wounded. He was the first to call for a doctor, and he was the first to call for a policeman.

Both of these men escaped with slight injuries. The third man, who was a policeman, fell from the bridge, and received a large stone, received wounds which will surely cause his death. His injuries consist of a compound fracture of the skull, involving the brain, and a compound fracture of the spine. Dr. H. M. Heltzer, who attended him, and in fact who rendered efficient service to all of the wounded persons, has no hopes of his recovery.

Emil Reich, who lives at No. 121 Martin street, sustained a number of body bruises, and had his right foot twisted from its socket, and left hanging by the flesh. His case is a serious one.

Emil Reich, who keeps a saloon on the corner of Logan and Findlay streets, saw the imminent danger, jumped from the wagon, and ran to the scene of the accident. He was the first to get to the scene, and he was the first to render aid to the wounded. He was the first to call for a doctor, and he was the first to call for a policeman.

Both of these men escaped with slight injuries. The third man, who was a policeman, fell from the bridge, and received a large stone, received wounds which will surely cause his death. His injuries consist of a compound fracture of the skull, involving the brain, and a compound fracture of the spine. Dr. H. M. Heltzer, who attended him, and in fact who rendered efficient service to all of the wounded persons, has no hopes of his recovery.

Andrew Dresler, who lives at 851 Outer street, near Gutterman, was terribly out and bruised, but in all probability will recover. His right arm and left leg were broken, and his head was injured.

J. H. Baumer, who lives at No. 67 Green street, was badly hurt, but his physicians entertain hopes of his recovery.

Our Chicago Correspondence.
Chicago, Sept. 20, 1867.

An event occurring here during the past week, or rather the culmination of a series of events, has developed the fact that we have among us a set of Thugs equal in barbarity, treachery and love for crime to the notorious "saw-grinders" of Sheffield—a set of scoundrels who, under the cloak of "protecting the rights of labor," have striven to gratify personal avarice, in defiance of all law and right. This seems rather a rough assertion to make concerning our model city, but unfortunately it is made on good grounds. It will be remembered that in May last the laboring classes of our community held a big eight-hour jubilee, which had the effect of hurting nobody but themselves, at that time at least. They held out for a long time, managing to get themselves and families to the verge of starvation, and then, rather than go to work honestly, a lot of the worst fellows among them went about demanding contributions to aid them in their strike. They did not solicit help, they levied contributions. Among those to whom they went was a grocer named Peirson, doing business at the corner of Cottage Grove Avenue and 26th street. He refused to comply with their insolent demands, and the half dozen ill-looking fellows who formed the "committee," went away cursing and threatening vengeance. A few nights afterward Mr. Peirson's store was entered by some unknown scoundrels who managed to rain, by sheer malicious mischief, almost his entire stock of goods. Next, after a few weeks had elapsed, they entered his barn, destroyed a buggy and girdled a lot of shade trees. On a third occasion the scoundrels set fire to Mr. Peirson's barn and burned it down, together with the two fine horses it contained, and much other valuable property. A rascally looking chap named Foote, who had been seen lurking about the premises just before the fire, was arrested on suspicion of being one of the perpetrators of the outrages. Since his arrest he half admits so being, and implicates a number of other persons, but swears that he will rather die than divulge their names. His examination has been postponed until Tuesday next, in order to give the police a chance to catch his accomplices. At this time there is no doubt that these crimes have been perpetrated in the name of "Labor Reform," as were the burnings and assassinations in Sheffield, which have created so much horror all over the world. Our recent "Labor Congress," held in this city, talked of sending missionaries of the style of the great "8-hour Traveler," over to England and France "to organize labor, and instruct the laboring classes in their rights and how to obtain them." From these late indications added to some of the murderous demonstrations by the "eight-hour strikers," it would seem as if England were a little ahead in the missionary business.

Lakeland Correspondence.

LAKELAND, Sept. 23, 1867.

DEAR MESSENGER:
The prospects of the St. Croix R. R., or the "Tomah & Hudson"—have caused some advance in real estate, and some property has exchanged hands on a slight advance, and some holders are more firm, while others refuse to sell. But the sun may set, never to rise, before the locomotive blows a single blast in this place, or the landholders grasp their imaginary wealth from such results.

There is evidence of life and some degree of vitality here. The houses of worship of which we spoke some time ago, are neither of them completed. The congregational is nearly so, except that important adornment that points upward. The Baptists have a good foundation and lumber in part, and there it stands. Some one or more of the vilest and most scurrilous scape-gallowses of earth or the pit, burned the warehouse of Hutton Bros. in this place. However, they are buying, and will in a few days have fine shipping facilities.

The Baptist Sabbath School are to have a picnic at Porin's Hall, Oct. 2, at 10 a. m. Refreshments at 2 p. m., and concert in the evening.

LOCAL NEWS.

FINE STOCK OF JEWELRY.—Mr. B. Illingworth, Main street, has just received a new and elegant stock of Jewelry, Gold and Silver Watches, new styles; Pins, Rings, Chains, Gold Pens, &c. &c.

Also a large selection of Clocks, all kinds; Solid silver and plated Tea and Table Spoons and Forks; Napkin Rings, Watch Keys, Silver Cake Baskets, Spectacles, &c. &c.

The new style of "Bog-wood" Jewelry, so much worn at present, just received. Call and see it.

All kinds of repairing done in a workmanlike manner.
Sept. 25—3-2t.

DIED.—The young man Hueston, alluded to in our last issue as being severely injured by a falling rock was going to press, died a few hours after receiving the injury.

Oliver Parsons, Esq., has been appointed a member of the school board of this city, in place of J. J. Robertson who declined to serve. Mr. Parsons will make an efficient member.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—This church will be closed a few weeks on account of repairs.

The full morning service will be celebrated next Sunday at the Rectory. Service at 10 past 10. All are invited.
Sept. 25.

CITY MARSHAL.—Mr. P. E. Keefe, who has served our citizens for near two years in the capacity of City Marshal with marked ability and general satisfaction, declined to qualify for the position again for personal reasons, and at a late meeting of the city council Lieut. John S. May was appointed as his successor. The vigilance of Marshal Keefe will be missed; but in Lieut. May our citizens will find a faithful and experienced officer—one who has heretofore filled the position with credit to himself and advantage to the city.

GRAIN MARKET.—Wheat is coming in, but in small quantities—farmers feeling disposed to hold for higher prices. Dealers this morning are paying $1.50 a $1.52. Milwaukee dispatches at noon to-day announce a decline yesterday of three to five cents in that market.

Oats, this morning, command 50¢ at 55 cents.

ANOTHER BLOCK.—On Monday morning J. E. Schlenk, Esq., broke ground on the corner of Main and Chestnut, and before the close of the season will have completed a stone building, 25 feet on Main by 80 feet on Chestnut, two stories high.

WANTED.

An owner for a horse supposed to be stolen. Said horse was seized by me last Sunday on suspicion that he was stolen property. He is about 7 years old, sorrel color, with light mane and tail—weight about 1000 pounds.

The Rochester Fizzle.

Special to the Messenger.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 25—11 a. m.
The convention called by State Lecturer Capt. Johns, and G. W. Chief Templar Grant, to nominate a third (Temperance) ticket for State officers, met yesterday, but it was a beggarly account of empty boxes. It was understood to be a Democratic cheat, and honest men nipped the swindle in the bud by letting it alone.

The convention resolved that it was inexpedient to nominate a third ticket, and then adjourned.

ROCHESTER.
ANOTHER ACCIDENT.—A son of Mr. Fred. Curtis was kicked by a horse on Saturday, from the effects of which he died a short time after the accident. His funeral was attended by a large circle of sympathizing friends on Monday. This is the fourth child of the family lost by accident or otherwise within the past ten years.

HEAVY RAINS.—During the past week we have been visited with several violent rains. We understand that considerable damage has been done to grain in stack in consequence.

STREET PIRACY.—Quite a large and attentive audience attended the services by Rev. Mr. Wright, on Main street, last Sunday afternoon. Services will be held next Sabbath in front of the Postoffice at 5 o'clock P. M., but by whom conducted we have not learned.

PERS-NAL.—It did old-time citizens good to take by the hand Mr. Baron Proctor, one of our early citizens, a few days ago, after an absence of eight years. Mr. Proctor is now a resident of New Orleans, and after an honorable army career, we trust he will have good success in assisting in the work of reconstructing Louisiana.

NO MEALS FOR US!—A Democratic exchange down in Southern Minnesota, wishing to compliment Brock Pomeroy's La Crosse Democrat, breaks the puff—"STRONG MEAT!"—It is strong—stronger than the balm of a thousand pig-pats. It is all stench, minus the meat. When we see a flock of buzzards sailing around we always have a sure bet that the La Crosse Democrat is in the vicinity—for, "where the carcass is, the filthy birds do congregate," sayeth the scriptures. Don't take meals at that hotel—better take concentrated strychnine! It even kills hardened Democrats; and what they can't stand would kill east-river monkeys! As a sanitary measure, we would advise all hands to let the "strong meat" alone severely!

Temperance and Politics.

EDITOR MESSENGER.—Please publish the following preamble and resolutions, adopted by the "L' Toile du Nord" Lodge, No. 57, I. O. G. T., as an expression of the sentiments of the membership, as expressed last Friday evening.

Respectfully yours,
J. R. ASLEY, W. S.

WHEREAS, A call has been issued for a convention of Temperance men to assemble at Rochester on the 20th inst.; and

WHEREAS, "Le Toile du Nord" Lodge is expected to respond in some manner; therefore

Resolved, That we are decidedly of the opinion that the usefulness of our Order would be materially impaired by any effort on our part, in the present excited state of the community on political questions, to enter the political arena.

Resolved, That we deem it highly expedient to avoid all possible causes of dissensions in our organization, and to confine our efforts to our own legitimate and proper duties.

Resolved, That as our Order is composed of clergymen of all the various denominations, and a membership, in which is or may be represented, all political creeds, all working harmoniously together in efforts to reclaim the unfortunate inebriate, and to prevent others from falling, and should not be swerved from the straight line of duty by any political entanglements.

Resolved, That we regard the call as ill-timed and inexpedient, and not likely to be productive of any practical good results. Therefore,

Resolved, That we disapprove of the action of our State Lecturer, in thus hastily issuing the call, and decline to be represented in the Rochester convention.

The Artful Dodger!

There is an old axiom that all is fair in war and politics. The axiom bears a lie upon its face, and no honest man will adopt it as a rule of action. Was it fair for those in rebellion, during the recent war, to attempt to introduce yellow fever into New York, Philadelphia and Boston, by sending to those cities packages of clothing and decaying corpses infected with the terrible malarial? Perhaps it was fair—Copperheads would swear that it was fair, but honorable men never did it.

One Capt. Johns—a man unknown to fame, but who has become "State Lecturer" for the order of Good Templars of Minnesota—has fifteen hundred dollars per annum in rations furnished while traveling, an adventurer and a stranger in our State—has assumed the responsibility of calling to meet at Rochester yesterday, to nominate a ticket of Good Templars for State officers. The movement is simply contemptible, and if sustained by the Order of Templars will bring them in disrepute. It is a piece of shallow Democratic strategy, which would reduce to the ranks the managers, if they had ever been in the military service and worn straps, for want of common sense or common honesty. It is a sham—a cheat—a fraud. It is a Copperhead movement to defraud and cheat honest men under the false pretense of the "high moral," while they are false to the hope. Their foreheads and their hearts, in this movement, are branded—"LIARS!" You don't believe a word you say. By alienating five or six thousand Republican voters, Grand Worthy Chief Templar Grant and Grand Lecturer Johns, from the Republican ticket, you expect to secure a Copperhead victory. You can't do it! As far as we have learned, every Lodge in the State has repudiated your sinister designs.

We expect to be informed by telegraph, before going to press, of your capers of yesterday. Till then, good by, sweetest dodger!

LET IT BE RECORDED.—During the rain-storm of Sunday afternoon, we loaned our friend, Bill Crossler, a cotton umbrella to protect himself from the moisture while returning to his home a few miles in the country. To our astonishment the furniture was returned on Monday morning. This is the first instance of the return of an umbrella of note. "An honest man's the noblest work of God," and Crossler must be one of 'em.

Our old friend Van Vorhes, of the Stillwater Messenger, said that. The statement requires confirmation.

By the way, who stole our cane?—Dear friend Knapp, it was that same old Cain who killed Abel—one of the brothers of whom you are the keeper—one of the fellows who never voted a dollar for the support of the war, (a la Vallandigham,) but who purchased substitutes to avoid a draft. It was a Democratic thief who stole your cane. Knock his worthless brains out and Judge Flandrau will receive one less vote. Knock him, Knapp, knock him on his coco shell.

Sale of School Lands.

Notice is hereby given that the unsold lands in the following mentioned school sections in the county of Washington and State of Minnesota, will be offered at public sale at the Treasurer's office of said county, in the city of Stillwater, on Monday, the 21st day of October, 1867, at 10 o'clock a. m., viz:

Sec.	Town	Range	Name of Town.
16	27	20	Denmark
36	27	21	Cottage Grove
36	27	22	Newport
16	28	20	Afton
16	28	21	Woodbury
16	29	20	Baytown
16 & 36	29	21	Oakdale
16	30	20	Stillwater
16 & 36	30	21	Grant
36	31	20	Marine
16 & 36	32	20	do
16 & 36	32	21	do

No lands will be sold for less than five dollars per acre, nor less than their appraised value. Schedules showing the particular description of said lands, their appraised value, and terms of sale, can be found at the county seat and at the several post-offices in the county.

On timber lands sufficient payment, will be required at the time of the purchase to indemnify the State from loss by the stripping of the timber. On prairie lands only fifteen per cent. of the purchase money will be required down at the time of the sale.

In each case the balance of the purchase money remaining due can be paid at any time thereafter, from time to time, within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser, with interest in advance at the rate of seven per cent. per annum to the first day of June, 1868, and annually thereafter.

Charles Dickens in America.

Old Bennett, who furnished one of the characters for Dickens' "Martin Chuzzlewit," is preparing a characteristic sketch of the man who will soon arrive in this country, by attempting to revive the ill will occasioned by his home comments upon his first visit, which all parties would probably do so. The Herald prints nearly nine columns of reminiscences of 1842. It was on the twenty-second of January in that year that Dickens landed in Boston. There was a dinner in that city, George S. Hillard, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Josiah Quincy, Washington Alston, Richard H. Dana, Geo. Bancroft, and other literary persons, being among the guests. There was also a dinner at Hartford, Gov. Ellsworth assisting. It was reserved for New York, however, to surpass the provincial cities in complete preparation before the newly-arrived literary lion. Dickens had a popular reception on his arrival in the city. A large crowd gathered on the steamboat dock, and after the steamer had cleared the harbor, a crowd of a hundred or more followed the steamer to the Custom House. That came the Grand Ball at the Astor House, wherein figured Robert A. Morris, Dr. Francis, Philip Hone, Dr. Mott, G. H. Foster, David Graham, James Watson Webb, Moses H. Grinnell, William H. Appleton, Judge Oakley, P. M. Wetmore, J. Prescott Hall, Maj. Noah, Dr. C. Marshall, O. Roberts, Judge Whiting, Judge Edmonds and many other people now living, whose affection for the Herald will not be increased by the publication of the names. For the supper on this occasion were provided 50,000 oysters, 10,000 sandwiches, 40 hams, 50 rounds of beef, 20 boned turkeys, a barrel of chicken salad, 2,000 mutton chops, two hogheads of lambs, 10 dozen boxes of claret, 100 gallons of coffee, 60 gallons of tea, 100 gallons of Madeira wine, 300 quarts of ice cream, 500 quarts of jelly, 100 pounds of butter, 100 pounds of oranges, and other things in proportion. Dickens was received by the Mayor and with nine cheers. The company was representative of all classes. We find in the list of names, a noticeable list of the names of Mrs. Schuyler and Mrs. Botta; Miss O., the sexton's daughter, and Miss S., the butcher's daughter, from Stanton street. The list of luncheon could not well go further than it went at this ball. Yet the New Yorkers were not satisfied. A dinner was devised by Wm. D. Astor, Hamilton Fish, W. H. Aspinwall, Bryant, Halleck, John A. King, Judas Jones, McCann, Botta, and Duer, and many others. After that came the "American Notes." They may not have been altogether creditable to the taste and delicacy of the writer, but the luncheon was served right.

Modesty—What Is It?

From the New York Gazette.

Strange as it may at first appear, this question has no definite answer whatever. The rules by which modesty may be defined are here and everywhere absolutely arbitrary, and entirely dependent on custom. The Turk is shocked at the freedom which Christian women are allowed. Pasha Pachá admired the beauty of English women, but was horrified at the idea of their riding on horseback. A title of high honor in Persia is to appear in the streets of an Oriental City, unless her face is as completely concealed as any portion of her person. This we call barbarism; they return to the compliment in commenting on our own customs.

When Shakespeare conceived his characters of Desdemona, Cordelia, Ophelia, Hero, and Beatrice, he was not guided by the rules of modern actresses; a woman would not have been tolerated on the stage. All of these exquisitely womanly characters were originally born by men, and it was nearly fifty years after the death of their great creator before it was considered "modest" for a woman to appear upon the stage. So in literature, it is only within a few years, less than half a century, that the appearance of women before the public has not been considered a breach of womanly modesty. The few exceptions were regarded as intellectual monstrosities and tolerated only on account of their undoubted genius. But we need not compare different times, to see how paradoxical the rules of modern society are. Our own customs and our fashions are full of paradoxes. The successful actress is received with shouts of applause from the people; yet she is not to be seen in a manner, form, face, expression, which they never think of her as unwomanly or immodest. Even the opponents of the theater object to the general character of the morality and public good; they do not talk of the profession as immodest in itself. Contrast with this the grave doubts and the severe strictures which have been expressed so frequently in regard to the propriety of a woman appearing in the lecture-hall, talking quietly to an audience for an hour or two, dressed in the simplest style, and appealing solely to the intellect of her hearers.

What a struggle there has been with the public sentiment on this subject. So in our fashions. When long dresses were the rule for years, none of the streets, as well as in the drawing-room, a lady's ankle was concealed from sight as carefully as the face of the Oriental woman. Within the last few years, however, the ankle has made its appearance in the world encased with ornamental shoes and made as attractive as possible. It is no longer surrounded by the mystery of long skirts, which almost banish its very name from society. There are very many paradoxes in fashion—the bathing dress, for instance—which a lady would be shocked, along with all her friends, to be caught in a hundred yards from the bathing house or in the drawing room of her hotel.

What, then, is female modesty? Is it a mere abstraction—a fiction—a poetic fancy?

CHARLES DICKENS.

From the Independent, by Louis M. Alcott.

Mrs. Blinzer never longed to behold Dickens in his classic retirement at Tuscum more fervently than I had for years desired to see Charles Dickens; therefore my satisfaction was intense on the joyful evening when I was to hear him read "Dr. Marryat" and "The Pickwick Papers." St. James' Hall was brilliant with what the papers call a "brilliant and fashionable" audience. Every one being in full evening dress added to the effect, and gave me another opportunity of admiring what we seldom see in America—an assemblage of really beautiful women; for in the class which makes them appear to our eyes, who all look, with their pale cheeks, hollow eyes, and bent shoulders, as if utterly exhausted by pouring over endless ologies and lams. Blooming as they were, however, I found more interest in a crimson dress, before a crimson curtain, than in any face about me; and when a stout gentleman walked rapidly by with a business like air, the great hall might have been empty for anything I saw of my neighbors.

At the first sight I received a shock, and my idol tumbled off the pedestal where I placed him long ago, when I saw his hair in a lock and thought Shakespeare an idiot beside him. I did not expect to see the handsome, rosy young man who once paid us a visit, and carried away so capriciously afterward; but I did think some sign of genius would be visible—some glimpse of the genial creator of Little Nell, Tom Pinch, and the Cheerful Brothers would certainly appear. Far from it; youth and comeliness were gone, but the foppishness remained; and the red-faced man, with false teeth and the voice of a woman, had his seamy gray hair curled in a wig in his button-hole, diamond, rings, pin, and studs; a ruffled front, and wristbands à la "Cousin Felix." I had been told that he was "Clayton, you know, but I lost my way, and I was not to be mistaken; and that set, but pre-arranged, and such low company, you know." I had refused to believe the Englishman's account; but when I saw Dickens I believed it, and after the first disappointment resigned myself to disappointment, hoping that Dr. Marryat might revive my faith.

He did, partially; but being a new acquaintance, my attention was attracted by trying to follow the story, as well as the actor of it—for Dickens used no book, but recited it in the most natural and dramatic manner.

In the midst of a dull passage he stopped abruptly, caught up the glass of water on his desk, hurried to the edge of the stage, and handed it down, exclaiming to the taker, "Here, Peck, quick; a lady is fainting!" And as the pretty, pale girl was taken out, he looked after her with an expression of motherly solicitude, so different from the manner in which he caught a glimpse of the real man, and gave a hearty round of applause, for that little bit of nature pleased every one.

Two minutes he began to read the famous Pickwick trial I found Dickens, and heartily enjoyed every word. He seemed at home, and his audience also; for, still in the spirit of the trial, he drolly and spirit of his early work. How people laughed! English merriment is as sonorous as English speech, and to hear that shrewd, old, and to the taste and delicacy of the writer, but the luncheon was served right.

ONE BY ONE.

One by one the sands are flowing.
One by one the moments fall;
Some are coming, some are going,
And none will ever come again.
One by one they drift and waken,
Let thy little strength go to each,
Let no future dream close thee,
Learn from first what these can teach.

One by one bright eyes of Heaven—
Joy is sent thee here below;
Dance them round thy feet, and give
Ready to let them go.

One by one thy grates shall meet thee,
When thou art alone and old;
One will fade as others greet thee,
Shadowy gleams through the fold.

Do not look at life like a sorrow,
Do not smile at each woman's pain;
God will help the forlorn to-morrow,
And will help the forlorn to-morrow.

Every day that dawns so slowly
Has its task to do to-day;
Do not let the day be wasted,
Look to thy duty every day.

There are golden links, God's tokens,
Reaching Heaven: has one by one
Take them, let the chain be broken,
Like the pilgrims of old time.

Robbery at Yellow Springs—Depository Encounter with a Burglar—His Arrest and Incarceration.

From the Dayton, Ohio, Journal, 17th.

The baker shop of Frank Haffner, on Xenia avenue, Yellow Springs, was robbed on Sunday night. Mr. Haffner was aroused during the night by a noise in the cellar, caused by the rats, but he jumped out of bed, seized his revolver and walked out on the porch. He noticed at once that the door of his back-shop was open. He entered, struck a light, and found that his money drawer had been forced, and some seven or eight dollars stolen. As he turned to leave the shop, he saw a man coming down stairs. The robber dashed past him, Haffner firing upon him, but without effect. The son of Mr. H., who had been out visiting, came to the gate just at the moment the robber was approaching it. Young Haffner then fired at the man, and, seized an ax lying in the yard and struck the robber on the shoulder, falling him to the earth. The man was not disabled by the blow, and being instantly seized at the running man, the ball passing through his coat at the armpit. Young Haffner raised his ax for another blow at the villain, but in the descent it caught in a grape vine. The two then fought a desperate battle, and the robber, who was then clinched, and while contending the senior Haffner reached the spot, and putting his revolver to the head of the robber, shouted to him to surrender or he would blow his brains out. Thus importuned, the desperate burglar capitulated, was handcuffed and taken to Xenia, accompanied by Haffner, who watched him closely and detected him in trying to slip off the iron wristlets, and prevented him from accomplishing his purpose.

Descent of an Enormous Meteor into Lake Ontario.

Captain Turner, of the schooner Alfredine, who arrived in Hamilton on Friday morning, 23d, reports having witnessed, at about 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, a splendid phenomenon in the descent of an immense meteor into Lake Ontario, which struck the water not more than 300 yards from his vessel. The Captain was standing on the main hatch. The vessel was about twelve miles off the Niagara light-house, bearing S. E. W. Attention was attracted by a sudden illumination from the northwest, which most instantly increased to a dazzling brilliancy. On turning he beheld a large body of fire in the heavens, which seemed to be approaching at a descent of about thirty degrees, and growing larger as it came, the observation of time being so brief as hardly to admit of computation in seconds.

The momentary impression of Captain Turner was that certain destruction awaited his vessel, as the terrible missile seemed to be directed to strike his vessel broadside. The time for reflection having passed, he turned his eyes away from the spectacle, and he beheld the light continued as so blinding in its effect that the man at the wheel and another of the crew on deck fell prostrate, and remained for some time completely stupefied with terror. The Captain himself, as he states, remained at his post, and saw the fiery body enter the water some three hundred yards ahead of his vessel, about two points to the windward. A loud explosion attended the contact with the water, which was deep and deafening, equal to a thunderbolt close at hand, and a large volume of steam and smoke ascended into the air, which was visible to the naked eye. The Captain estimated that the meteor was a body of about twenty feet in diameter. A long trail of flame of the most intense brilliancy was noticed as it struck the water.

THE OLD CANOE.

Where the rocks are gray and the shores are old,
And the waters below look dark and deep;
Where the rugged pine in its lonely pride
Leans solemnly o'er the water's edge;
Where the rocks and rushes are still and rank,
And the woods grow thick on the winding bank.

Where the shadow is heavy the whole day,
Lies at its moorings the old canoe.
The useless paddles are left dropped,
Like a sea-bird's wings that the storm has
Like a bird on the railing, one o'er one,
Like faded hands when the work is done;
And the old man, with his silver beard,
And the old woman, with his silver hair,
Sitting on the deck, and the old canoe.

Typo-Setting by Machinery.

From the New York Tribune, Sept. 10.

Among the many strides of invention which have thus far made this century famous, must be mentioned the efforts that have been made to produce a machine for setting type. A vast deal of time and money has been spent, both in Europe and in this country, but little has been practically accomplished, although it is now nearly fifty years since Charles Babbage first conceived the idea of a machine for setting type. The first of the type-setting machines in this country, which was so largely patronized by the British Government. It is true that many of the machines have been made, and some of them have been in operation for several years; but the numerous complexities of the machine have rendered them so difficult to use, and no machine has as yet achieved an undisturbed success.

A Runaway Wife.

We find in the Toledo Blade of Saturday a singular story of the misfortune of a German citizen of Buffalo, who arrived at Toledo Friday night in search of a runaway wife. Several months ago, says the Blade, the man was engaged in the hotel and feed business at Buffalo, having in his employ a young man, in whose charge the proprietor left the business when necessary to be from home. The property of the store was also the possession of a wife and five children. "Some six months ago," says the Blade, "the man was engaged in the hotel and feed business at Buffalo, having in his employ a young man, in whose charge the proprietor left the business when necessary to be from home. not suitable for making good wine, communicating a bad ground taste to it. Of late years, the hills and mountains have been preferred, and an improvement in production has resulted. The best of the wine made in the Sierra Nevada is better than that made in the low land of the country for this reason; and we cannot doubt that the great vine-covered vineyards favorably located in the mountain counties from Teate to Shasta, will be as good as the famous vineyards of Sonoma and Napa. The Cote D'Or, where the mines is not unfrequently associated to find in some hotel in a little country town better wine than the one table than we could find in any place around San Francisco—that is, unless he should have ordered some very high priced brand.

There is a common lack of bouquet and quality of flavor in the California wines. Lately it has been sacrificed to quantity. The well established reputation of the wine of the district for its bouquet, softness, and the abundance and cheapness of the cuttings, have given it a preference over other strange and rare varieties.

are abundant and better known; and the mission grapes must give way to others which are equal to it in hardness and endurance. Among these are the Zinfenatal, the Pinot and the Golden Chasselas. The Zinfenatal grape is praised very much by all the growers, and is especially valued in Toulonaise, El Dorado and Place coucous as well as of its roots in those of the Sonoma. The Black Burgundy, the Chasselas and the Pinot are also well known. The white Rhienish Mader produces less than those named above, but they are better for wine purposes than the Californian grapes, or, at least they are desirable for foreign export.

The high cost of transporting wine from the various grape-growing districts is another very serious obstacle to the export of wine from California. Interest in the need railroads, and other means of rapid transportation, it costs more to bring wine to San Francisco from Tulare than to bring it from the coast.

The interior of Europe is as is some ness in the interior of our own State. The lack of wood suitable for barrels is one of the biggest obstacles that stand in the way of the better wine-making. But the invention of the staveless barrel may bring relief for that evil.

The brandy tax is a serious obstacle to the production of wine by growers on making a profit from their vineyards. They could not pay for casks and transportation for their wine, whereas they could if they could have a duty-free brandy. Not a few have been absolutely uncracked by this oppressive tax.

Wealthy Californians should make a study of the wine-growing industry. They frequently to their relatives in the East, as to let them know what our wines are, and ascertain them to the taste. They would find them to be of the most appropriate, and it would be difficult to make the fact that would be more beneficial to the State. Boxes of assorted wines can be sent out to the East, and the people are in the variety of our production.

In regard to the great ultimate success of the wine-growing in California, we have Stomped Murderer with an Air Gun—Myerson's Affair.

From the New York Post, 16th.

Yesterday morning, while William Toole, better known among the pugilists as "Old Bill Toole"—one of the oldest and most famous in the country—was eating his breakfast at his residence on the corner of Myrtle and Central avenues, a bullet whizzed through the window pane, and fell on the floor. In a flash, glancing off struck the opposite wall and fell to the floor.

An immediate search was made for the bullet, but to no purpose, and no trace of any person could be found near the house; and no report was heard in it supposed that the shot was fired from an air-gun. The accused of the crime was not taken into regard in the matter, in view the recent murder committed in Gold street with a similar weapon.

A lady fell into a river, and a poor boy rescued her. When she was safe, her husband landed the brave fellow a shilling. "You have done me a great service," expressed indignation, the latter said, he cocked the coin: "Well don't blame the gentleman, he knows best; mayhap I have saved her he'd have given me nothing."

A Miscreant went to see the reception of Sheridan, under the impression that it was the reception of McCoole, and concluded that "Aaron Jones" wasn't there if he couldn't look him up.

The pills satisfied them and did no harm, while they added greatly to the reputation.

mining has a bad reputation to live. Of course, the hills and mountains are not better, nor are the people. The vineyard is the principle. The general quality of the wine made in the Sierra Nevada is better than that made in the low land of the valley, but it is less known. I do not doubt that in twenty years certain vineyards favorably located in the mountainous country from Tulare to Shasta, will be as famous as the vineyards of the Moselle, Rheingebiet or the Cote D'Or. The traveler the mines is not unfortunately accustomed to find in some hotel in a little country town a bottle of wine that is better than what he would find at first class restaurants in San Francisco; that is, unless he should have ordered some very high priced wine.

There is a common lack of bouquet and delicacy of flavor in the California wines. The quality has been sacrificed to quantity. The vineyard is not properly cared for. The Mission grape for hardness and productivity and the abundance and cheapness of the cuttings, have given it a preference over other strange and more delicate vines. The vines are now becoming abundant and better known; and the selection grapes must give way and the old vines are equal to it in hardness and delicacy of flavor. Among these are the Zenfental, the Pinot and the Golden Chasselas. The Zen-

Spanish grape is raised very much as in our own country. The grapes of the Guadalupe, Tula and Durango and Pácor and Pácor counties speak as well of it as those in Napa and Sonoma. The Black Burgundy, the Chasselas Fontainebleau, the Redwing and the white Rhenish Muscatel produce less than those named above, but they are better adapted for purposes than the Californian grapes, or at least they are desirable for living bouquet.

The high cost of transporting wine from the various grape-growing districts is another very serious obstacle to the development of the wine-growing interest. To need railroads, and other means of cheapening wine to San Francisco from Tula county than from Hungary.

The interior of Europe is as in some places in the interior of our own State.

The lack of wood available for barrels is a big factor in the high cost of wine. The invention of the staveless barrel may bring relief for that evil.

The brandy tax is a serious obstacle, and has prevented many wineries from making a profit from their vineyards. They could have paid for casks and transportation for their wines, whereas they could have found a market as home for the brandy. There is a fear here has been absolutely uncrinkled by this oppressive tax.

Wealthy Californians should make a practice of shipping boxes of native wine to the East. They will find it profitable as well as let them know what our wines are, and accustom them to the taste.

The present is always acceptable and appropriate. The wine-growers of California are the best would be more beneficial, to the state. Boxes of assorted wines can be sent so as to give, at a small expense, an opportunity to the East to know the wine-growers in California, we have at the least doubt, but we should like to then prosper a little better in the immediate future.

Lyon's Periodical Drops!
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES!
These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any pills, powders or nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, specific and certain remedy for the cure of all obstructions and suppurations of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, as the safest, and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of John F. Lyon, without which none are genuine.

Prepared by DR. JOHN F. LYON, 193 Chapel street, New Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, [enclosing stamp] concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses.
Sold by Druggists everywhere.
Geo. G. CLARK & CO.,
Gen'l Agents for U. S. and Canada.
For sale by Carli & Co. 37-1/2.

A NEW YEAR!
—AND—
New Goods!
Thankful for past favors, the undersigned takes pleasure in informing the people generally that his stock of

Dry Goods,
Groceries,
Hardware, &c.,
Is full and complete.
In addition to a general Dry Goods and Grocery business, he has

FLOUR

POINT DOUGLAS
Marble Works
The undersigned having entered into a partnership for the more extensive manufacture of

MARBLE MONUMENTS,
GRAVE-STONES, &c., are now prepared to fill all orders for Grave-stones or Monuments at about twenty-five per cent less than any other establishment in the West.
Prices must come down, and we have begun it, and will carry it out.
However, Mr. C. J. Aldrich has sold one man living in the State, and parties need only to visit the Cemetery at Stillwater, or inquire of the parties to whom he has sold to know that he sells the best work in the West. We have advantages over any other point on the river as a place of manufacture. We are at the head of navigation in all low water—we have no high rents or city taxes, or high prices for fuel and other expenses attending the business in St. Paul and other cities. We get our freight at our door as cheap as though it were left at any point on the river below by through contract. We deliver and set up and warrant all our work.
Please write to us before you buy, or wait to see our authorized agent, who has our certificates. Do not be deceived—there are agents traveling who falsely represent us, but are selling for others at three times higher than ours, and offering poorer work.
